FBID Progress Report for 1952, for DD(I) Report to NSC

1. Significant additions to radio monitoring coverage, and further integration of the monitoring service into the intelligence and psychological warfare effort were attained through:

a. The activation of a station  for coverage <sup>50X1</sup> of northeast Asian regional broadcasts.

b. Intensification of the analysis of radio propaganda in support of radio broadcasts and psychological warfare.

c. Refinement of processing to provide in a weekly report the essence of political developments reported by radios of the USSR, Eastern Europe, and the Far East.

2. Since most of Central Asia regional transmitters are unmonitorable at existing FBIS stations a reception survey team was sent to conduct tests in various parts of Pakistan. The results are under study at this time.

Assuming the results are promising, the major problem will be negotiating a monitoring agreement with the Government of Pakistan.

3. The encroachment of housing developments at Reseda, California has forced relocation of the West Coast Bureau to the Santa Rosa area of California. The land has been procured and construction will start in mid 1953.

4. Development of an airfield adjacent to the Okinawa Bureau is necessitating relocation to another area of the Island. All costs will be borne by the USAF.

Sovmat Staff

SUBJECT: DCI's Progress Report to the NSC for 1952

1. In connection with a progress report on calendar year 1952, which the DCI plans to submit to the National Security Council very early in January, this Office has been asked for a contribution of "... two type-written pages. They should be succinct and devoid of detail and technical terminology .... The reports will include data on the following topics: Major organizational changes during 1952; implementation of NSCID's; accomplishments; unsolved problems and action being taken, or to be taken, to solve them."

2. To assist in the preparation of this report, the Divisions and Sovmat Staff are requested to submit one double-spaced type-written page giving the highest level high-lights of their progress and problems in 1952. Drafts should reach this Office by 29 December 1952 at the latest.

3. This progress report has no official connection with the longer report for the DD/I, which has a target date of 15 January for submission of division sections to OO. It is assumed, however, that the major developments and problems selected for mention in the NSC report will be accorded the same relative emphasis and discussed at greater length in the subsequent report to the DD/I.
